Thank you for your work on establishing guidelines for wind development and wildlife. Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks released last year the Crucial Areas Planning System <http://fwp.mt.gov/wildthings/conservationInAction/crucialAreas.html>, a web-based mapping application to provide fish and wildlife information to our publics as they pursue development and conservation projects. As part of the tool in CAPS, we also provided example recommendations for a variety of development opportunities, including oil and gas and residential development. We did not have any guidelines for wind and will review these and hopefully incorporate many of them when they are final.

Please include me in your email list as this moves forward.
